Corporate Visions “Blogs All About It” with their Messaging Feed

Incline Village, NV – July 25, 2008 – Corporate Visions, the leader in Customer Focused Messaging continues to go above and beyond for their alumni and the messaging enthusiast.

After Corporate Visions’ Alumni LinkedIn Group became a huge success, they introduced another tool for their social networking community: a blog called The Messaging Feed. “Corporate Visions dares to be different from other companies in our space that think they can do what we can,” expressed Joe Terry, President of Corporate Visions. “To be different, our team is dedicated to serving our clients or anyone in search of effective messaging techniques.”

The Messaging Feed gives Corporate Visions’ fans that are hungry for useful messaging tools ideas that any working professional can immediately use. The Messaging Feed includes videos, event registration, surveys, news items, quotes, a suggestive reading list and more importantly...a blog where alumni and anybody who wishes to register for The Feed can comment on the latest posting from Corporate Visions.

“THIS is cool,” said a Corporate Visions’ client.
